DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1 to 4, 8, 12, 18 to 23, 28, 34 to 36, 39 to 41 and 50 to 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by Ng et al (J. of Structural Biology art. ).

The Ng et al reference teaches a process and an apparatus for crystallization of proteins. The apparatus consists of capillary tubes in support members and a housing member. There is a means to stabilize the tubes. There is a lower precipating reservoir where the capillary tubes contact. The crystallization takes place in the tubes by contacting the tubes with the lower reservoir. The tubes are made so that x-rays can be taken to look at the crystals, note pages 227, 228 and figure 9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 5 to 7, 9 to 11, 13 to 17, 24 to 27, 29 to 33, 37, 38, 42 to 49 and 56 to 62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ng et al.

The Ng et al reference is relied on for the same reasons as stated, supra, and differs from the instant claims in the specific materials and sizes of the apparatus. However, in the absence of unexpected results, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine through routine experimentation the optimum, operable sizes and materials in the Ng et al apparatus in order to produce the correct size crystals and use materials which do not pollute the crystals.

According to the Science Direct website, the Ng et al reference was published in April 2003.
